

Angle Check

This subsystem is used to check the test angle to determine if it is between a set of start and stop angles. If start > stop then the true condition should span the jump from 360 degrees to zero degrees.

